

FERRIS LEADS GORE IN OKLAHOMA RACE FOR SENATE SEAT

Long, Running on Straight League Issue, Leads in Missouri.

By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., August 4.—United States Senator Thomas P. Gore was running far behind Scott Ferris, democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination, on returns from yesterday's state-wide primary, as tabulated here early today.

Latest available figures from 1,138 precincts of the 2,708 in the state gave the following vote: Ferris, 61,597; Gore, 38,572.

The senator's adherents predicted Ferris' lead would be cut sharply during the day when the rural districts reported.

Kansas Returns G. O. P.
TOPEKA, Kan., August 4.—United States Senator Charles Curtis and Gov. Henry J. Allen, republicans, were leading their respective opponents for renomination on the face of returns from yesterday's state-wide primary election, as tabulated here early today.

Figures were coming in very slowly, however, and only a small proportion of the vote had been received. Two hundred of the state's 2,188 voting precincts gave for Senator Curtis, 6,939; Edwards, 3,076 for governor, Allen, 8,412; Snow, 5,650.

In the democratic contest for governor, which was the only one on that ticket, Jonathan Davis of Bronson was leading a four-cornered race, with Dempster Potts of Wichita second, and O. T. Wood of Liberal and W. S. Hyatt of Parsons next in order.

Incomplete and unofficial returns indicated that all of the republican representatives in Congress had been renominated, and that chief interest centered in the contest in the eighth district, where a close race was in progress between R. E. Bird of Wichita and Lacey Simpson of McPherson. So close were the candidates that the vote of a single precinct was changing their relative positions.

Long Leads Opponents.
ST. LOUIS, August 4.—Unofficial and complete returns from the state-wide primary yesterday indicated John M. Atkinson had defeated Frank H. Harris and Charles H. Mayer for the democratic nomination for governor.

Arthur M. Hyde and E. E. McJimsey, contesting for the republican nomination, were running neck and neck, the former polling a large vote in the rural districts of the state, and the latter running strong in many of the larger cities, particularly in St. Louis.

Senator Selden P. Spencer apparently won over Dwight F. Davis and James I. Minnis for the republican nomination for United States senator. Breckinridge Long was running strong for the democratic nomination and it appeared he would defeat his five opponents—Charles M. Hay,

SCOTT FERRIS.

George H. Scruton, Arthur N. Lindsey, Henry G. Priest and J. C. Higdon. Long, in his campaign, endorsed the league of nations pact as written at Versailles. Spencer upheld his vote for the Volstead prohibition law over President Wilson's veto.

Atkinson made the race on a dry platform and his apparent success is taken as a victory for the eighteenth amendment.

Harrison's Victory Indicated.
HARRISONBURG, Va., August 4.—Renomination of Representative Thomas W. Harrison of Winchester over State Senator Robert E. Leedy of Luray, by a majority of approximately 1,500 votes, is indicated in practically complete returns collected by the Harrisonburg News-Record from yesterday's democratic primary in the seventh Virginia district.

Representative Harrison, who ran on a platform defending his vote for the Volstead act and his fight for a soldier bonus, according to News-Record returns, carried all but two of the ten counties in the district. Senator Leedy, who advocated light wines and beer and opposed compulsory military training, appeared to have won in Warren and Madison counties by majorities of 100 and 25 votes, respectively.

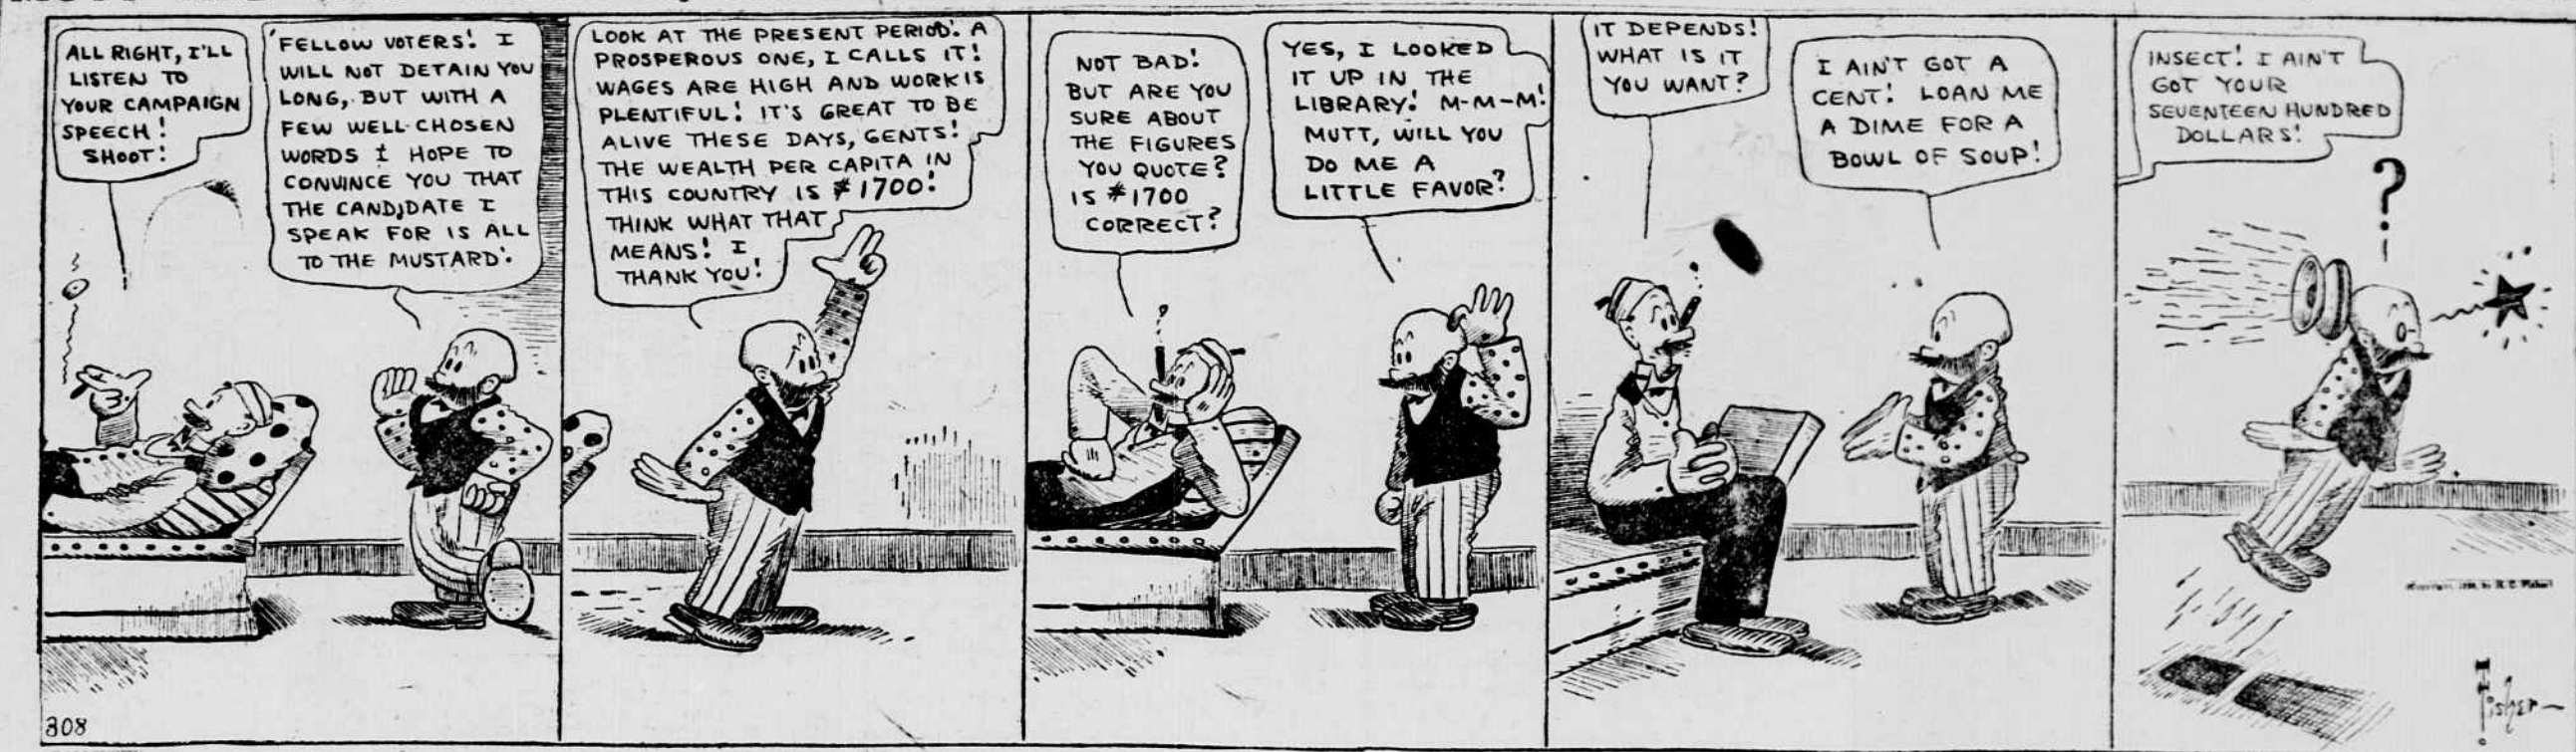

Harrison's majority, according to News-Record returns, in the various other counties follows: Shenandoah, 667; Rockingham, 577; Shenandoah, 667; Page, 132; Frederick, 200; Clarke, 160; Rappahannock, 23; Albemarle, 257; and Greene, 115. On the basis of the same returns, Harrison carried Winchester by 78; Charlottesville, 8; and Harrisonburg, 84.

"Wet" Candidate Wins.
NORFOLK, Va., August 4.—By a majority of more than 2,000 votes J. T. Deal of Norfolk, member of the Virginia state senate, today defeated W. J. Kendrick of Suffolk for the democratic nomination for Congress in the second district. Deal's victory is hailed by the political element as a signal demonstration of their contention that the pendulum has swung back since 1916, when the second district voted for prohibition in the election which made Virginia dry.

The liquor question was practically the only one on which there was any material difference in the platforms of the candidates. Deal favored "light wines and beer, made by the individual from grapes and hops grown by him; self, for consumption in his own home."

Breckinridge Leads Fight.

Ferris-Gore Senate Race in Oklahoma Primaries Eagerly Watched Here

Reports of the results in the Oklahoma primaries, in which Senator Gore and Representative Ferris contended for the democratic nomination for senator, were eagerly scanned today by friends of both at the Capitol.

Mr. Ferris, who was formerly chairman of the public lands committee of the House, and who was appointed chairman of the democratic national congressional committee in 1918, announced that he would make a race for the Senate more than a year ago.

The campaign waged against Senator Gore by his opponents has been largely based on the senator's record in the Senate during the war with Germany. Senator Gore's support of the McLenore resolution, which was intended to warn American citizens to keep off armed merchant vessels of the belligerent powers, was one of the things brought up against him. Senator Gore introduced a resolution in the Senate similar to the McLenore resolution. He did not vote at all on the resolution declaring the war with Germany. He voted against the draft law and was lukewarm if not absolutely neutral to the food-control act.

Mr. Ferris, on the other hand, opposed the McLenore resolution and voted for the draft law.

Senator Gore has been in opposition to the Wilson administration on a number of legislative matters. He did not stand with the President on the League of Nations. He was first elected to the Senate in 1907, and he was re-elected in 1909 and again in 1914.

Mr. Ferris is serving his seventh consecutive term in the House.

SOCIAL CENTERS CLOSE.

The eighteen community centers of the community center department of the public schools have closed for the summer and will reopen September 7. This announcement was made today by Miss Alice Follock, executive secretary of the community center department.

Closing of the community centers is for the purpose of allowing the janitors at the various school buildings to take their vacations. Plans for enlarging the scope of the work of the centers will be made at a conference of the community secretaries prior to the opening of the centers in September.
